CONNECTING TO A CAR CHARGER

Before connecting your transmitter to your vehicle, turn the vehicle's engine ON. Connect your transmitter to your car's 12V DC power supply.

CAUTION: Do not connect your transmitter to your vehicle BEFORE the vehicle's engine has started.

When the car's engine is turned off, the transmitter will automatically turn off shortly afterward. Take the transmitter out and store it in a cool, dry location.

Bluetooth Mode

Start the vehicle engine. Connect your transmitter to your car's 12V DC power supply. The transmitter will automatically enter Bluetooth Mode.

Go to the Bluetooth settings menu on your phone. Make sure that Bluetooth is turned on. Connect to the device listed as "GRFCC2001".

NOTE: Disconnect through your connected device.

Bluetooth Mode Controls

Left Button:

- Press to play the previous song in a playlist.
- Press and hold to reduce the volume.

Right Button:

- Press to play the next song in a playlist.
- Press and hold to increase the volume.

Multifunction Button:

- Press to answer an incoming call.
- Press and hold to reject an incoming call.
- Press to play/pause videos.

Charging Ports

The transmitter comes with one USB-A port and one USB-C port. The transmitter is connected to a charging hub with two USB-A ports and one USB-C port. Connect a compatible charging cable to one of the ports. Ensure it is fully inserted and no tears or damage are visible to the connection or cable.

NOTE: Some devices require a specific output voltage. Before connecting, make sure that your device is compatible with the transmitter's output.

FCC Compliance Statement

Changes or modifications not expressly approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) this device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation.

If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.
