CHARGING YOUR DEVICE

If your smartphone has Qi wireless charging capability, place it on the smartphone charging pad to charge it. The back of the device should be laid flat on the charging pad. Make sure to remove any phone case before charging.

For best results try to place your phone as close to the center of the charging pad as possible.

To use the airpods charging pad, push up the smartphone charging pad. The smartphone charging pad is magnetic. Before placing your smartphone vertically, ensure it is also magnetic and holds onto the device. Avoid abrupt motions as it may disconnect, leading to possible damage.

If your airpods has Qi wireless charging capability, place the airpods in their case on the airpods charging pad.

To connect a smartwatch to the smartwatch charging pad, pull the charging pad up. If your smartwatch has Qi wireless charging capability, place the smartwatch on the extended charging pad with the back laid flat.

Refer to the image below for an example.

Warning: do not place any metallic items other than compatible smartphone/AirPods/smartwatch on the charging surface.

NOTE: On iPhones 8 and higher, there may be some heating while charging. If your phone becomes too hot while charging it is possible that the phone limits wireless charging to 80%. Remove the phone from the charger, wait until it cools, and try charging again, making sure to charge in a cool, dry place.
