FCC Justification Statement about Antenna Gain Information

We hereby attest that the device referenced below incorporates a permanently attached, integrated PCB trace antenna. The antenna is an integral part of the RF design and cannot be replaced, removed, or modified by the end user. No external antenna connectors are provided.

The device complies with the FCC limits for fundamental and spurious emissions solely by radiated measurements as documented in the Test Report No.: 80268456-04 Rev_0, issued by CSA Group Bayern GmbH, dated 12. November 2025.

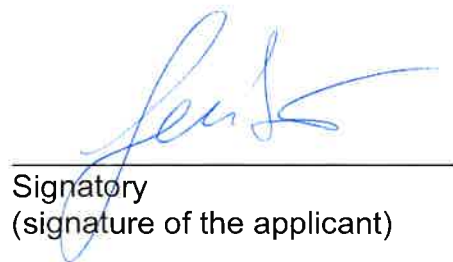

Therefore, no separate evaluation of antenna manufacturers data sheets, antenna reference design specification or Antenna Under Test (AUT) reports necessary, as required for the FCC certification under CFR 47 Part 15.
