

Product Difference Statement

The schematic and PCB for models ONE402M and ONE404M are identical. The hardware and software used in both models are the same.

The products are marketed under different model names due to the use of different eSIM providers for different markets. The differences are as follows:

- ONE402M uses an eSIM provided by Kore.
- ONE404M uses an eSIM provided by Twilio.

There are no other differences between the two models.
