YOU ARE AN URBANISTA!

Thank you for your purchase of Urbanista Boston Bluetooth earphones.

Urbanista is a tribute to people living modern urban lives. Products are developed to allow an active and mobile lifestyle. Boston is designed to resist rain and sweat, but should not be dipped into water. Keep in mind to put the silicon lid on the micro USB connection, to better withstand water (IPX5).

To start Boston, press the logo button for 5 seconds. Boston will start and go into synch mode. The small blue light will show continuous frequent blinking.

Forward	Press and hold the + button
Backward	Press and hold - button.
Answer	Click logo button at incoming calls
Hang up	Click logo button
On/Off	Press and hold the logo button 5 sec.

The playing time is around 4 hours. The charging time is around 1-2 hours, depending on the energy source. The blue light is on when charging and turns off when the battery is full. The Bluetooth distance is about 10 meters, without obstacles between the two devices.

To charge the batteries of Boston, connect the complimentary cable A to the micro USB connection and the USB to an energy source such as a computer.

GoFit silicon wings come in three sizes. To get the most out of your workout it's important that you choose the right size. To switch ear-buds, pull it off to the side without damaging the latch that secures it in the earphone and gently slip the other over using the same motion in reverse.

The smallest of the three ear-buds, without the GoFit wing, can be a good choice when you're not working out and want to be more discreet.

Clean the headphones gently with a cloth. The ear buds can be rinsed with soap under running water. Make sure that the ear-buds are dry before you put them back on.
