OUTSIDE

- Each of the billions of neurons in your brain produces electrical signals.
- These signals are recorded using electroencephalography (EEG) through MW75 Neuro's soft fabric neural sensors.
- The data is processed and then interpreted by artificial intelligence (AI) to determine your focus level, prompt you when it's time to take a break, and more.
- You can access these metrics in the Neurable app. Gain insights and suggestions that help you work smarter.

Use the M&D Connect app to customize your sound preferences and headphone settings.
