| 01  | FCC ID: 2AM6U-WFU200C | U6C_33_00_00_00 | UnattendedTerminal | They are electrically identical, the only difference between the two configurations is that the U6C_33_00_00_00 has one more brightness sensor, which has no impact on RF characteristics. And this difference was evaluated in EMC test. |
| 02  | IC: 25226-WFU200C     | U6C_33_02_00_00 |                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
