

Label location

The diagram shows a light gray rounded rectangle representing the back of a device. At the top, there is a light blue rectangular box with a thin blue border. In the center of the rectangle is a gray circle with a black outline. At the bottom, there is black text. The entire diagram is set against a white background.

Back of the device