EUT: PeriCoach Perineometer

Test Firm: EMC Technologies Pty Ltd (Designation # AU0001)

Analytica Ltd is applying for FCC Certification of the PeriCoach Perineometer.

The PeriCoach is a perineometer designed to treat stress, mild-moderate urge and mixed urinary incontinence in women, as well as pelvic organ prolapse by strengthening of the pelvic floor muscles through exercise. This device provides biofeedback via smart phone technology.

The device contains BT Chip TI CC2564C – Bluetooth Low Energy (DTS) and Bluetooth (FHSS). This application is therefore submitted as a composite application under DTS and DSS filings.

Testing was performed in accordance with the requirements of FCC 15C, Section 15.247.

EMC Technologies Pty Ltd is acting as agent for Analytica Ltd in this application.

Please note: Label and compliance information for this device is in accordance with FCC rules for E-filing however a copy of the manual containing the required information has been provided to demonstrate the inclusion of the required FCC information.
(This document is only available online upon registration of the device).

A request for permanent confidentiality for the internal photos has been made as the unit is fully sealed and the internal sections are not accessible without destructive disassembly of the unit.
