

Your device has been certified by the relevant countries and regions. You can view this electronic certification information on your device: Go to the device's "Settings" menu, then select "My Device," and finally click "Certification Information" to find all applicable electronic certification marks and details.

---