

Label and Location

FCC ID on device enclosure:

This is a temporary ID representation, the permanent label will be adhered/embedded into the plastic, but will be in the same place, will be the same size, and will be the same ID number.

The following warning statement is too large to fit on the beacon device, the warning statement is included in the user manual for the device.

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) this device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.