All measurements were performed radiated and therefore additional antenna gain documentation is not required.