Disclaimer and Safety Instructions

Before using Spatial Computing Box, please review the user guide, instructions and warnings to avoid causing personal injury or property damage. XREAL reserves the right to update the aforementioned content due to changes in product functionality and other objective conditions. Please visit www.xreal.com/support to view the latest update.

User Groups

This product is designed to fit and be used by age 16 and older. It should not be used by people with sensory impairments or people who are at risk of burns.

Built-in Apps

Check more details from "Settings-About device-regulatory information".

Battery and Charging

Spatial Computing Box is equipped with a non-removable built-in battery. Do not attempt to repair or replace it on your own. If you require any maintenance or battery replacement, please contact XREAL or an authorized XREAL service provider to avoid the risk of fire, explosion, personal injury, or damage to the battery and device. Stop using it if the battery is seriously swollen or overheated. Using an incorrect battery model can also pose an explosion hazard. Please comply with local environmental regulations and separate batteries from household waste for recycling or disposal. Using unqualified or incompatible power supplies or chargers may result in fire, explosion, or other hazards. Get details from the user guide in the website.

Avoid Hearing Damage

To prevent possible hearing damage, do not listen at high volume levels for long periods, check more information at "Safety information" from the user guide in the website.

Device Safety

Do not expose the product to liquid. Operating Beam Pro in an environment with a temperature between 0~35°C, and storing it between -20~50°C. Please stop using or charging it when the temperature is too high.

Connect with XREAL Glasses

To avoid connection failures or damage to the device, connect XREAL Glasses to the right port of Beam Pro with XREAL official USB-C cable.

Medical Device Interference

Beam Pro contains magnets as well as components and/or radios that emit electromagnetic fields. These magnets and electromagnetic fields might interfere with medical devices, such as implantable or other types of medical devices. Getting more information on "Safety information" from the user guide in the website.

Regulatory Information

Check details from "Settings-about device-Regulatory Information".

Radio Frequency Exposure

Beam Pro uses radio signals to connect to wireless networks, check details about radio frequency (RF) energy resulting from radio signals and steps you can take to minimize exposure from "Settings-about device-Regulatory labels-RF Exposure".

FCC Caution:

Any changes or modifications not expressly approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate this equipment.

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

- (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and
- (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

This Product meets the government's requirements for exposure to radio waves. The guidelines are based on standards that were developed by independent scientific organizations through periodic and thorough evaluation of scientific studies. The standards include a substantial safety margin designed to assure the safety of all persons regardless of age or health.

FCC RF Exposure Information and Statement the SAR limit of USA (FCC) is 1.6 W/kg averaged over one gram of this Device Spatial Computing Box (FCC ID:2BBNY-X4000) has been tested against this SAR limit. SAR information on this can be viewed on-line at <http://www.fcc.gov/oet/ea/fccid/>. Please use the device FCC ID number for search. This device was tested for typical operations 10mm from the body. To maintain compliance with FCC RF exposure requirements, 10mm separation distance should be maintained to the user's bodies

NOTE:

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radiofrequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications.

However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation.

If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.

- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.

The WLAN function for this device is restricted to indoor use only when operating in the 5150 to 5250 MHz frequency range.

EU and UK Declaration of Conformity

XREAL declares that the Spatial Computing Box is in compliance with Directive 2014/53/EU and the Radio Equipment Regulations 2017. The full text of the EU declaration of conformity is available at the website:
