To Whom It May Concern:

We are submitting an integration to the cover letter for the application for our Model RKK-SG-02.

The RADIO MODULE used, model RS9116 CC1 manufactured by SILICON LABS has not been modified and has been integrated following the applicable instructions for installation and therefore provided test reports and other documents from the module itself are applicable and representative for the final product certification.

The only modification performed concerns the maximum output power and the duty cycle which have both been reduced, as stated in the Operational Description attached to this application.

Bluetooth and Bluetooth LE functions are disabled in this application.

Sincerely,
