

Label location

The label is located in the battery compartment, and users will find it when installing the battery. The permanent adhesive type is used to fix the label, and the label drawing is not easy to remove.