Ptofessional Installation Declaration Letter

FCC ID: 2BPEO-JWR-UHF-R340

To Whom It May Concern:

JWR-UHF-R340 is a professional RFID device, designed for specific applications. It requires specially developed software for control, so ordinary consumers would not purchase it as they lack the ability for secondary development and usage.

In terms of marketing, our equipment will not be sold to the general public in retail form or through mail-order. Only professional distributors or installers are allowed to sell it.

Our equipment is not intended for general consumers or ordinary buyers; rather, it is typically used for industrial/ commercial purposes such as clothing management, vehicle management, etc.

Since the installation and use of our products require an understanding of the basic applications and related knowledge of RFID, random installation will cause our JWR-UHF-R340 to fail to start and function properly. Therefore, the equipment needs to be installed by professional installers.

Sincerely,
