

Due to the external product design, the label is affixed inside the battery compartment.
The FCC ID can be checked when inserting or replacing the battery.