

Charging Case - Wireless-Chairaina Operational Description

The Case incorporates a wireless-charging function for charging the associated device.

The Case incorporates an internal transmit coil that wirelessly transfers power to the receiving coil in the mouthguard for charging its internal battery. The wireless-charging function operates at an approximate resonant frequency of 200 kHz.