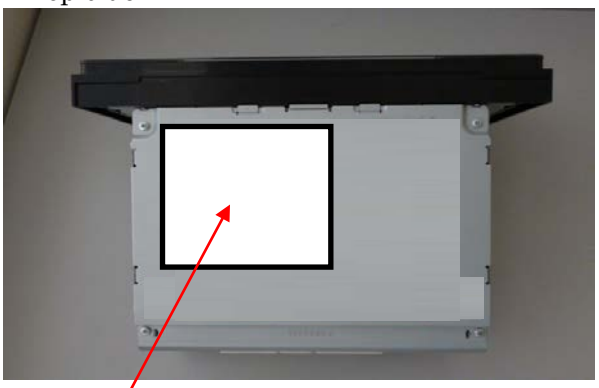
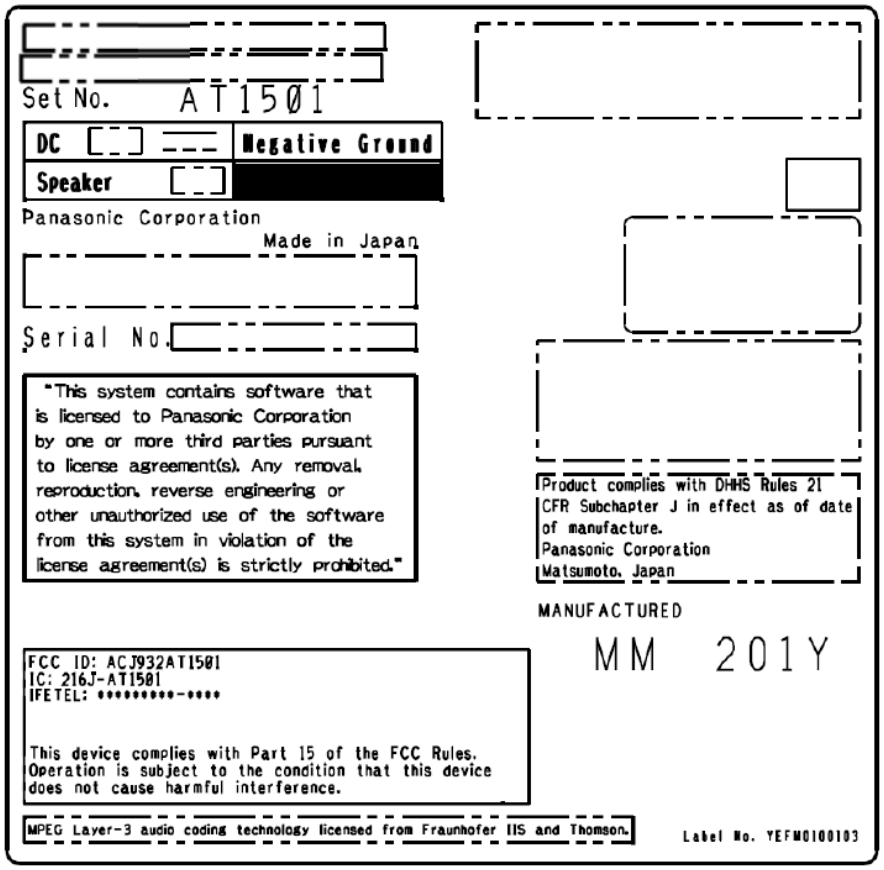
Confidential
Period:Unlimited
秘：無期限
Panasonic

Position of label　AT1501

Top side





"Set No." described in Label means "Model No.".

Since this device is always used with vehicle, it is not sold to general end users separately .

Since the product is attached on the vehicle, the user can not see the label.

The following statements describe on the user manual of the vehicle.

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.