Operational Description

The WR10A is a 310 MHz transmitter used for safety-of-life purposes. It is manually operated and ceases operation within 5 seconds after activation. It does not perform periodic transmissions.