2.4 GHz Audio/Video Transmitter Operational Description

The 2.4 GHz Audio Video Transmitter takes left and right Audio inputs as well as baseband video from such devices as a television or VCR. The device then Frequency Modulates these signals on a 2.4 GHz carrier to be sent to the 2.4 GHz receiver. At the receiver end the process is reversed and audio and baseband video outputs are provided for a remote television or VCR.