To whom it may concern:

We, LG Electronics Inc., hereby attest that the wireless charger function is not available at this time. In addition, the HW doesn't support a wireless charger function. Once the wireless charger function becomes available, we will apply a Class II permissive change for wireless charger function. A separate KDB inquiry will be filed once the wireless charger becomes available.

Should you have any questions or comments concerning the above, please contact the undersigned.

Sincerely,
