RE: e-Label Statement
FCC ID: C3K2149

To whom it may concern:

This device's label and user information is compliant in accordance to FCC KDB 784748. The e-label will display the FCC ID and the Part 15.19(a)(3) statement.

Per KDB 784748 4.1 & 4.2, users will be provided clear instructions on how to access the regulatory information stored electronically without requiring special access codes, permissions or accessories / supplemental plug-ins (i.e., SIM/USIM cards) or having to go through multiple steps (no more than three) in the device's menu.

Per KDB 784748 4.3, The FCC ID will be displayed in a manner clearly legible without the aid of magnification per 2.935(e).

Per KDB 784748 4.4, The above information will be programmed by Microsoft and the information will be secured in such manner that it will not be able to be modified or removed by any third party during the course of normal usage (e.g. installation of applications, accessing the menus, etc.) without Microsoft's consent.

Per KDB 784748 4.5, A physical label will be on the product packaging at the time of importation, marketing and/or sales. The removable label used we be able to survive normal shipping and handling and it will be removed only by the customer after purchase. The removable label will include the FCC ID.

Sincerely,
