

RF Exposure compliance issues:

The max. RF EIRP power output from the device is less than 1 mW. If the entire RF Power were absorbed by 1 gram of tissue (not possible considering typical RF circuits) the SAR limit of 1.6mW/g would still not be exceed.

Therefore no warning labels, no RF exposure warnings in the manual or other protection measures are required for the transceiver.