

FCC ID Label Location

The label is a permanent adhesive placed in the battery case. Note that it's not a removable part of the camera and it's readily visible (see image attached).