

19 August 2003

To Whom It May Concern:

To our knowledge the US Coast Guard does not endorse or require USCG or third party certification for any manufacturer's radar beacon for use in the United States. An operator is free to use any radar beacon that meets CFR regarding racon characteristics.

Sincerely,

Paul F. Mueller
Vice President, Research and Engineering
Tideland Signal Corporation