FCC ID LABEL

A photograph showing the back of a white computer monitor. The monitor has a grid of ventilation holes at the top and a small logo in the center. A white rectangular label with the text "FCC ID LABEL" is placed on the back panel. Below the label, there is a power switch and a blue Ethernet port. A white Ethernet cable is plugged into the port, and its other end is coiled on the surface below. The entire setup is on a light blue surface.
