

FCC/IC ID label and location.

This information is molded into the case at this location.

This information is added to the serial number label and placed on the unit here.

