

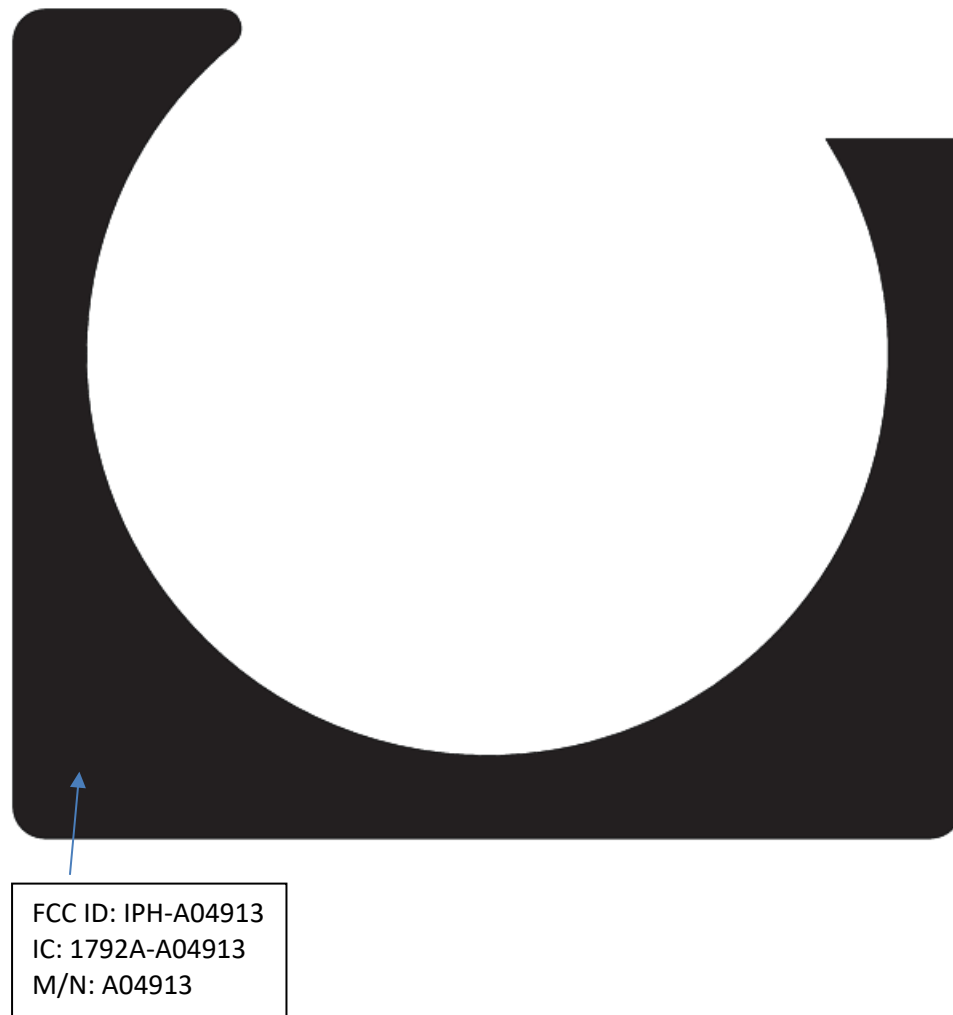

Exhibit 10: Identification Label

Product Label

The physical FCC ID and IC label is adhered permanently on the product. Below is the representative location of the product label.

The following statements are included in the Important Safety Product Information, and on the packaging.

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.