

This label is attached to the product with an adhesive.
The adhesive used is permanent.
If the battery cover is removed, the battery may become detached, making wireless operation difficult.