

October 10, 2001

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to express my interest in the Pains Wessex Guardian Man-over-board watch. I understand that this product has been submitted to the FCC for approval. Having read the item's description and function, I believe that this unique device will significantly increase the safety of marine boaters by providing them with a means of alerting mariners to the loss of persons overboard while at sea. It is small and convenient to wear which will increase the likelihood that sailors will wear the device. In addition, the Guardian Man-over-board watch will provide searchers with the means to rapidly locate and rescue those lost overboard in various sea conditions and visibility.

Therefore, because of its potential impact on boating safety, I feel that it should be made available to the public as soon as possible. There is currently no other such product available and I believe that boaters would truly welcome and benefit from this new and innovative product.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Jay Jolly". The signature is stylized with a large, looped "J" and a cursive "Jolly".

Jay Jolly
Vice President