Dear Sir,

This is to declare that the OTC product model number AVCW-G-100/200, AVCW-G-109/209, AVCW-G-115/215 is intended for the industrial and commercial use only. The device is designed and distributed through Wireless Internet Service Providers for fixed wireless connection applications.

The device requires Wireless Internet Service Providers or System Integrators to provide a professional installation at the customers' site. Such installation generally include 1) antenna installation and alignment, 2) system installation using OTC Wireless proprietary utility program, and 3) knowledge of computer networking.

General public will not be able to purchase this device from retail stores or mail order houses and will not be able to use such device to connect to the Service Provider due to other security measures that are built in the device and access control the WISP will implement.

Best Regards,

Jen Tsao
