

A black, rectangular electronic device is shown from a top-down perspective, resting on a light-colored wooden surface. The device has a central rectangular area with a recessed top section. Below this section, there is a small, light-colored cylindrical component and a square port with a circular opening. Two screws are visible on the sides of the device. A white rectangular box is overlaid on the top edge of the device, containing the text "Label Location".

Label Location