1.) Regarding question 1 from your reply on 10/3/02. You mention that you will reissue and down load the information on-line on the FCC website early next week. (week beginning October 7, 2002). We have not received this information. Please submit.

The new test report has been downloaded on the FCC website today (11-10-02). Test report 2G5762GUS2.

2.) Regarding question 4 and 5 from your reply on 10/3/02. We cannot hold certain pages of an entire exhibit confidentiality unless the entire exhibit is confidential. Please separate confidential material from non-confidential material into separate exhibits.

All product drawings and related materials have been removed from the new test report (downloaded today). For all other exhibits that contain pages of confidential material, please take this email as confirmation to hold the entire documents as confidential.

3.) If we do not receive a SAR report, will use the grant condition from EA374558. Depending on SAR report the grant note from EA374558 may still apply.

We will be submitting a SAR test report towards the end of next week (anticipated date for download: 17th October 2002)

FYI: Regarding question 2 from your reply on 10/03/02. The grantee is responsible for compliance at all power level settings. Data only at full power is sufficient.
