

Operational Description

This device is a model controller, only one channel is provided and it is battery powered. The whip antenna should be fully extended during operating.