Date: August 30, 2004
From: Barry Wyshogrod, Philips Medical Systems, Andover, MA
Subject: Application for Radio Grant and associated Request for Confidentiality

Dear Sir or Madam,

Philips Medical Systems of Andover, Massachusetts hereby submits the enclosed application for Equipment Authorization under 47 CFR Part 95, Subpart H for a wireless medical telemetry transmitter, Model M2601B.

The M2601B telemetry transmitter is the evolution of the current M2601A device, authorized as PQCM2601A-95 on 20-Aug-2002. The M2601B has no functional radio changes from the M2601A; radio signal characteristics, frequencies, and power output all remain identical. The M2601B circuitry is implemented with new components to address parts obsolescence issues. The industrial design (packaging) was changed from the M2601A to address commercial needs.

Upon receipt of this grant, the grant ID number will be applied to the device. Furthermore, the instruction to the user concerning frequency coordination (as per 47 CFR 95.1109) will appear on the cover of the associated Instructions for Use and Service Manual.

This filing includes:

1. Block Diagram & Functional Description
2. Schematics
3. Bill of Material
4. Internal Device Photographs
5. Part 95 Test Report

Under the provisions of Section 0.457(d) of the Commission's Rules, and Section 552(b)(4) of the Freedom of Information Act, Philips Medical Systems hereby requests that items 1-5 listed above be granted Indefinite Confidentiality from public disclosure, as this information is deemed to represent trade secrets.

In addition, this filing also includes:

6. Instructions for Use
7. Artwork for Product Labels
8. External Device Photographs

Under the provisions of FCC Public Notice DA 04-1705, dated 15-Jun-04, Philips Medical Systems hereby requests that items 6-8 listed above be granted 45-day Limited Confidentiality from public disclosure, as the information is deemed to represent commercial secrets.

If for some reason, the Commission cannot provide the Indefinite and Limited Confidentialities as requested above, please contact me, and please insure that no material is placed into the public domain until we have had a chance to discuss this issue.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of this application. I can be reached at (978) 659-7383 or by e-mail to: barry.wyshogrod@philips.com. If I am not available, please contact Ms. Denise Haley at (978) 659-4358 or by e-mail to: denise.haley@philips.com.
