A pink, heart-shaped electronic device, possibly a toy or a small electronic component, lying on its back. The device has a small loop at the top and two circular openings on the sides. A white label is attached to the bottom, containing text about the device's specifications and safety warnings.

The image consists of two side-by-side photographs of computer mice. The left photograph shows the underside of a white computer mouse with a blue cord. A small, rectangular label is visible on the bottom surface, and an orange arrow points to it. The right photograph shows the top of a blue and black computer mouse with a blue cord. A similar small, rectangular label is visible on the bottom surface, and an orange arrow points to it. Both mice are resting on a light-colored surface.
