A close-up photograph of a green printed circuit board (PCB) assembly. Two identical integrated circuit (IC) chips, labeled '4NC 7676 1948', are mounted on a metal frame. The PCB is populated with various electronic components, including capacitors and resistors. Labels such as 'AC360', 'AC351', and 'AC350' are visible on the board. The assembly is part of a larger electronic device, with a black component visible on the left side.
