

The following are setup screen shots that the installer of the Ubiquiti E7-Audience would take.

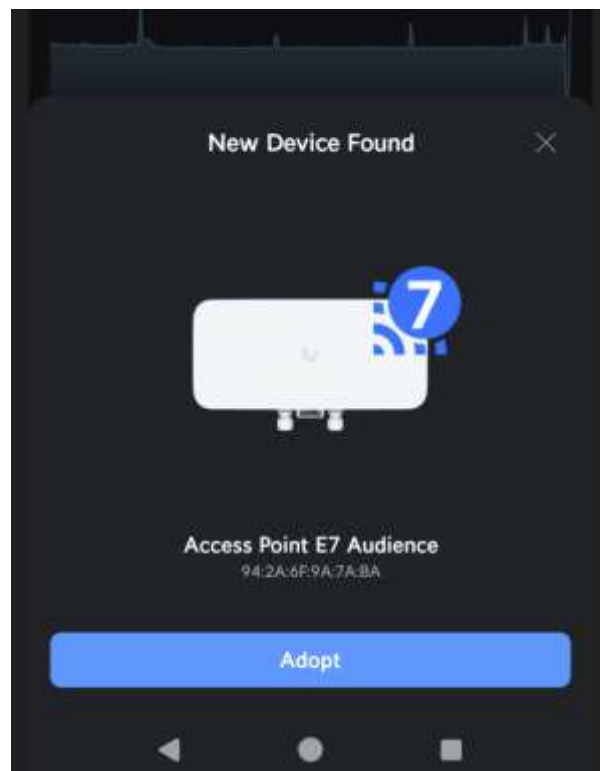

From the Quick Install Guide (QIG) the installer would click on the link for an Android or other device.

This goes to the UI Mobile application

Download the application (if needed)

Following the prompts:

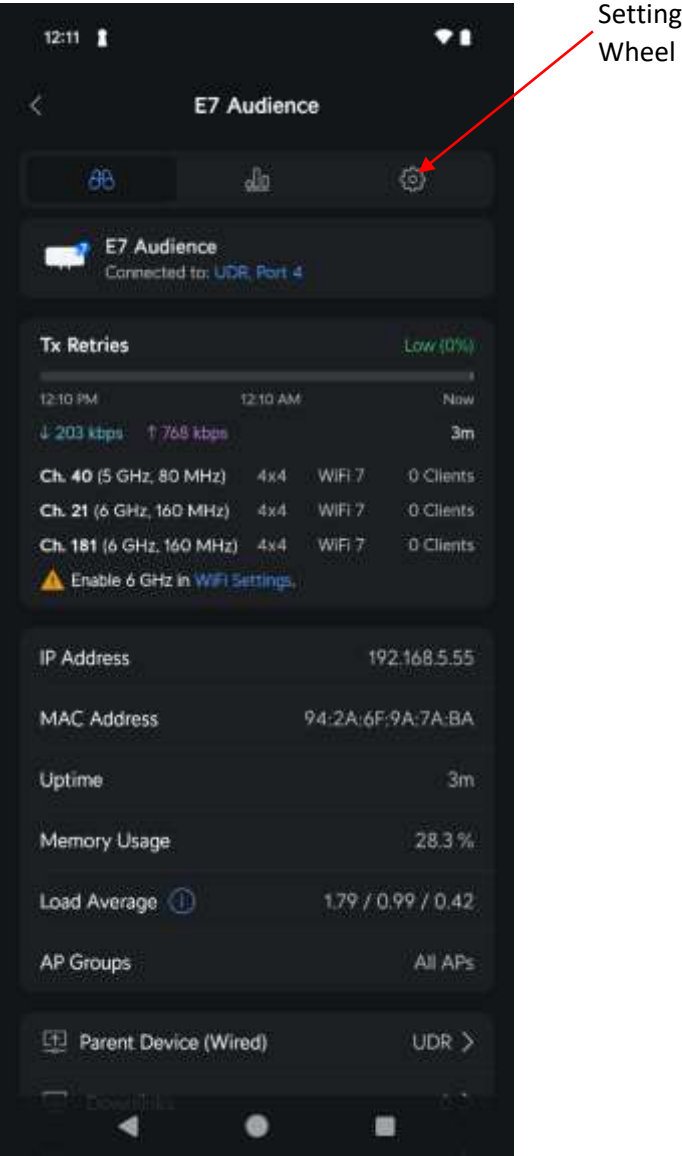

Through the Mobile application this new device screen will pop up

Adoption screen

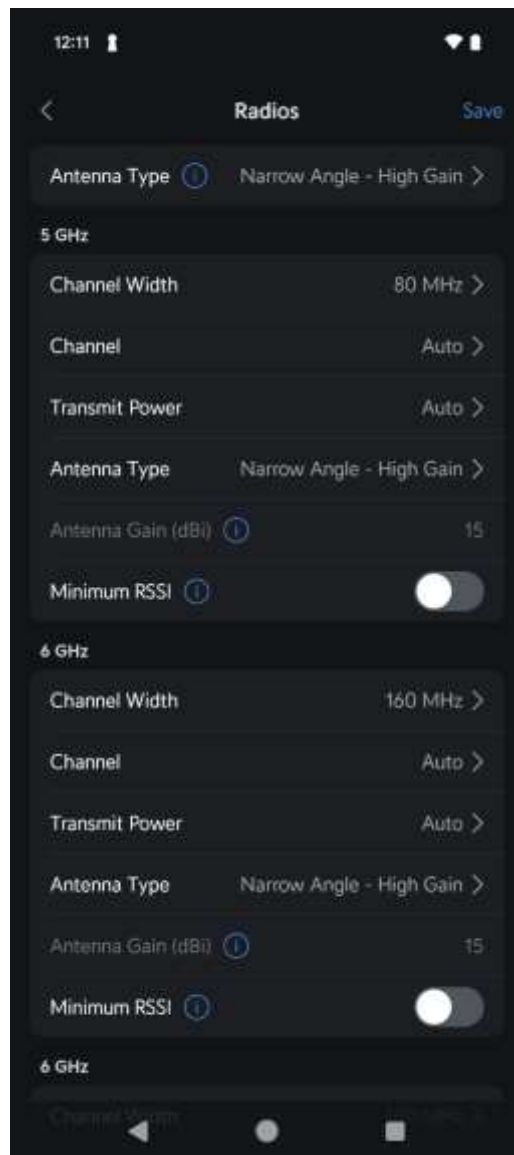

After adoption the installer would select the Setting Wheel

Under setting screen, the installer would select the “Radios” link and this screen pops up

The installer would then select the “Antenna Type”

High or Low Gain selection
