1--The product is described as a Point to MultiPoint however there are dish antennas included in the list of antennas used with this product. Please clarify.

Client: It's just a name.

The product can operate under a directional antenna to a master device, or between two devices with a directional antenna, using ptmp mode with only one client.

It's not a PTP only device, that doesn't mean it cannot do PTP.

SM: OK!
