

The label is affixed on an immovable part of the back side of the device.

A diagram consisting of a horizontal black line. From the center of this line, a thick red arrow points vertically downwards. The arrow has a simple triangular head at the bottom.

