Product Equality Declaration

Tabletop Media, LLC d/b/a Ziosk (“TTM”) is the owner of the Z500 product and has sole responsibility over the Z500 product.

As such TTM declares the following:

- The Z500 product being submitted currently is essentially unchanged from the product we submitted for FCC testing and received certification for previously.
- The only difference or modification between the previously submitted Z500 product and the Z500 product being submitted currently is a change to the WLAN layout to support an electrically equivalent replacement part for an EOL component.

Should you have any questions or comments regarding this matter, please contact me as per below info.

Sincerely yours,
